

Every day, conversations about autism are happening, what causes it, how to support it, and what the future holds. This PSA reminds viewers that autism is not just a topic of conversation but a lived experience that deserves action, understanding, and ongoing support.

From helping families navigate a new diagnosis to empowering young adults through job training, partnering with employers ready to hire, advocating for housing and lifelong supports, and investing in breakthrough research, Autism Speaks shows up every day to create a more inclusive world.

The “Every Day” PSA highlights Autism Speaks’ year-round efforts to improve the lives of autistic people and their families.
